NEW Museum Updates

The Springfield History Museum has been closed since January, but there has been a lot going on behind the scenes!

We've spent the time caring for our collections in order to preserve this history for decades to come. Fifteen volunteers helped process 370 individual artifacts, putting in over 1,000 hours of work on cataloging, photographing, and housing the material in our care.

We are so grateful for their dedication and work and couldn't have done it without them! We've also been working on renovations in our front gallery and have put together a great upcoming exhibit.

New Exhibit at the Museum

The Springfield History Museum is ready to reopen with "Farm Labor in the Valley," a collaboration between the Museum and community members Nancy Bray and Herb Everett.

The exhibit features the history and diversity of farm workers in the Willamette Valley and Lane County from pre-colonization to the present.

Join us Friday, July 10, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. during the Downtown Springfield Second Friday Art Walk to celebrate the exhibit and the newly renovated exhibit space with free refreshments and live music from Justice 3.

As always, admission is free and all ages are welcome!
